

Relative Clauses

Worksheet

Study!

1. Look at these sentences. Identify what the underlined words refer to in each sentence.

- Teens who use blogs can have a positive impact in society.
- Citizens that post news stories on the web become amateur reporters.
- I've just posted a comment that shares some ideas on citizen journalism.
- Traditional newspapers which have become obsolete should adopt an online version.
- Clarissa, whose blog on bullying was awarded a medal, was a victim.

Relative Pronouns are used to link sentences and refer to the words that precede them.

2. Complete the table.

	Person	Thing
Subject
Object
Possessive

Practise!

A. Complete the sentences with the correct relative pronoun.

1. The man _____ I met yesterday is a CNN reporter.
2. John, _____ wife works for The Times, couldn't participate in the discussion.
3. That is the blog _____ I always read.
4. My e-mail account _____ was blocked is working now.
5. Students _____ blogs provide trustworthy information will receive an award.

B. Join these sentences with the correct relative pronoun.

1. Jonas writes a blog	who which whose	is aimed at teens problems and worries.
2. School newspapers		witnessed the fight in the canteen.
3. Our school newspaper asked for the cooperation of students		main priority is making teen aware of Internet dangers.
4. Lucy deleted some posts		very poorly written.
5. My school has a citizen journalism project		deals with his everyday life.
6. I've just participated in a blog		are online get more attention from students.